FESCO Emergency Sales is pleased to announce the addition of Liz Keenan and Tyler Satterfield to our Elkridge team. Their roles will strengthen our graphics, information technology, and technical support capabilities as we continue to serve our emergency vehicle customers.

Liz Keenan has joined FESCO's Graphics Team, supporting the design and printing of vehicle graphics for our installation team. Working alongside our existing graphics associates, Liz will help prepare the custom graphics that bring each customer's vehicle design to life.

Tyler Satterfield has joined FESCO to assist with information technology, electronics diagnostics, and programming, with additional sales support responsibilities planned as he develops in his role. Working alongside Vice President of Sales Rick Breed, Tyler will support the systems and technical resources used throughout our daily operations.
